AN APPEAL TO BAPTIST OF NORTH CAROLINA FOR UNITY AND CO-OPERATION.

In this age of progress and great achievements, the key-word is "co-operation." In every line of endeavor whether commercial, social or religious, men are striving to combine their influence and resources to make success doubly possible. It is an axiomatic fact that in union there is strength. We, the Baptist leaders, have been slow to realize the importance of co-operation in the development of our denominational plans. We seem to feel that regardless of our efforts, the Lord will take care of his work. We are His stewards and are delegated the keeping of His vineyard. If we fail, He fails.

Is it not high time that we should bravely take our places like men in the front line, assume our responsibilities, and unite on a definite scheme of work? This is the sole purpose of this appeal. We are not measuring up to our opportunities. The Lord has graciously given us a great field—a wonderful heritage—fifteen hundred churches and over two hundred thousand men and women to be drilled into His service. Not to use this great host in the very best way to advance His kingdom will be considered nothing less than criminal negligence.

After prayerful deliberation on ways and means, your leaders have been led to make a survey of the state by associations to ascertain what might be expected of the churches in the promotion of missions and Christian education. This plan has been submitted to the moderators and other officials of the various associations for information and approval, and the results secured appear in the associational reports herein published. We beg our pastors, deacons, and other church officers to study this plan of work, bring it before the churches, and urge them to comply.

Bear in mind that this is not an attempt to force taxation on the churches, but to suggest a sum, which, if paid annually by each church will be somewhat creditable to our standing and numerical strength.

LIBRARYOUR STATE PLAN OF WORK

In order therefore, to unify and simplify our work and adjust it so as to reduce friction and dissatisfaction, and to remove cause for reasonable complaint, we have decided to emphasize but four objects in our program, viz: (1) Home Missions. (2) Shaw University. (3) Foreign Missions. (4) Secondary schools. We are devoting our strength to secure the co-operation of all Baptists in pushing these objects. The objects chosen for this united campaign are the main objects set forth in the constitutions of most of the local organizations; hence there should be no trouble in effecting the closest kind of cooperation. Let us review briefly these objects to make the program clearer:

STATE MISSIONS

By this is meant organizing, encouraging and help-

1. By this is meant organizing, encouraging and help number of communities in the state without churches because the Baptists in these communities are too few in number to provide places of worship. In such cases the Convention should be in position to aid in the building of church edifices and in the support of pastors till the local bodies are in position to do it themselves.

There is need of a church edifice fund out of which weak churches any where in the state can be assisted in the erection of suitable houses of worship.

2. This can be very easily done if the churches will follow the plan outlined in this pamphlet. Without any burden every church can raise the amount asked of it. One after collection each month during the year will do it.

3. Shaw University, our great state school, must be supported. We are pledged to Shaw, and must be true to our promise. We have decided to raise an endowment fund for Shaw of a hundred thousand dollars in five years.

Adequate support must be given our Foreign Mission work. A church is not a Missionary Baptist Church that ignores foreign missions on the pretext that we have heathen at home. "The field is the world," and each church should be interested in its salvation. Missionary Baptists have orders from heaven to go into all the world. See that your church is a regular contributor to foreign missions.

4. Baptists are pledged to the secondary school idea. It seems a settled fact that we are going to maintain several Baptist high schools in the state; now let us do our best to make them standard institutions and a credit to our great denomination. We are asking each church to donate generously to this object, and to designate their donations.

We appeal therefore to all Baptists to read this pamphlet and study this plan. It is simple; it is fair; it ought to command our fullest approval. The road to Baptist success lies in union and cooperation.

HOW REMITTANCES ARE MADE

We have created a Board of Promotion in Raleigh with Rev. O. S. Bullock, D. D., as Secretary, to receive all remittances, and to see that they reach their proper destination. Whatever is raised for specified objects should be reported to this Board. We urge that remittance be made quarterly.

Money for secondary schools should be sent to the local associations or designated to some particular institution. Churches may also remit their foreign mission money direct, or send them through the Board designated. Our chief desire is to secure credit for what we are doing, and also secure co-operation in putting over together a definite program.
